Empowering teen mothers and their children to achieve independence
through education

*Mentors
for Young Mothers
Program*

alley's house is a local, 501(c)(3) organization created to empower teen mothers and their children to achieve independence through education, ultimately breaking the cycle of poverty and welfare.

alley's house accomplishes this mission through the Building Brighter Tomorrows workshops and the Mentors for Young Mothers Program.

alley's house is a member of the Metroplex Mentor Center formed by Big Brothers Big Sisters and the Volunteer Centers of Dallas, Arlington, and Fort Worth. The Center is a coalition of agencies who meet certain standards in their mentoring programs. Potential volunteer mentors receive information about our program through this Center.
